PLANNING NEW CONSTITUTION

GERMANS DISCUSSING FEATURES OF NEW REPUBLIC IN PLACE OF EMPIRE.

(By the Associated Press)
BERLIN, Nov. 19.—For the first time since the founding of the German empire the Marsellaise was played by a German band heading a procession on the Unter Den Linden today.
The convening of a constituent assembly is being urged in Germany in diplomatic and political quarters not identified with present cabinet on the grounds that it will facilitate peace negotiations. It is believed that Hugo Haase, secretary for foreign affairs, and Wilhelm Dittmann, secretary of demobilization and transport, are receding from their attitude that the new republic must be purely socialistic. More moderate members are not disposed to exclude the Bourgeois elements from the government. As the result of police resistance in an attack on headquarters sixteen members of the force have been executed.

GERMANS WANT BETTER TERMS

SELF PROTESTS AGAINST SOME OF THE IRONCLAD PROVISIONS OF ARMISTICE.

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Nov. 19.—Germany wants the armistice terms modified so she can have economic intercourse with the territory on the left bank of the Rhine as before the armistice, Dr. Solf, foreign secretary, says in a wireless dispatch addressed to the United States, Great Britain and Italy and received here. Dr. Solf asks the free use of coal, potash and iron ore mines and transportation within the old boundaries of the empire, free navigation by way of Rotterdam and the coast for the provisioning of Germany and continuation of industrial pursuits on the left bank of the Rhine for use of the remainder of Germany. Solf repeats previous protest against the surrender of transports and continuation of the blockade.

THREE AGREE TO BUY BOND QUOTA

COUNTY COUNCIL OF DEFENSE CLEANING UP FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN QUOTAS.

The Executive Committee of the County Council of Defense was in session yesterday, taking up several things in connection with war work. The main work was hearing the testimony relative to the quotas for several individuals in the last Liberty Loan drive. J. A. Sutton of Francis was assessed $300 and refused to buy that many. It developed that the local committee made the assessment against Mr. Sutton and his son, and the Executive Committee found that the assessment was not too large. On Mr. Sutton's agreement to buy $250 worth of bonds in addition to the $50 bond already bought, the case was dismissed.

A Mr. Hardberger of Francis, was before the committee for not buying his quota of bonds. Without going to trial, Mr. Hardberger agreed to take the amount, and the case was dismissed.
P. M. Wright of Oakman was assessed $300 in bonds, but had refused to buy that many. Before appearing before the committee, however, he bought the $300 worth, and there was no case against him. He apologized for rash statements he had made.

Between the uncertain and none too desirable water supply from the Canadian river and the chronic shortage of gas, Oklahoma City residents always have plenty to worry about.

The king of Belgium is one of very few monarchs of Europe who is not threatened with the loss of his throne. All parties agree that he is entitled to the best the country can give.

Press dispatches announce the abdication of still more of the petty sovereigns of Germany. A clean sweep is being made in the various states and thrones are very much at a discount and few bidders at any price.

About the first tilt President Wilson will have with the newly elected Republican congress will be on the question of a high tariff bill. Under pretext of safeguarding the nation's industries from German competition the high tariff forces will at once begin framing a measure in line with their theories. Wilson, however, can be relied upon to hold them down for his veto will come down on anything that favors the special interests as against the interests of the nation as a whole. Of course some schedules may need revision upward, but this is not sufficient excuse for boosting everything.

Now that the war is over citizens of Ada should again turn their attention to bettering conditions here and adding new industries to those already here, thus increasing the pay roll and adding prosperity to the city and county. As a starter every man should enroll as a member of the chamber of commerce. Any effective work must be done by this organization and just now there is a wonderful opportunity to get into the push early and send Ada over the top with a whoop. In 1870 Napoleon III, the most powerful sovereign on the continent of Europe, saw the sun set on his imperial ambitions at Sedan. The Kaiser of Germany has just witnessed the same thing at Sedan. Verily history repeats itself.

Three-quarters of a million of Americans participated in the final drive against the Germans. These Americans astonished the world on their ability to train rapidly and thoroughly and become as effective fighters as any of the veterans of the war displaying a spirit that carried them over many an obstacle that would have proved formidable for men of even more training. They were needed to turn the scale in favor of the Allied cause and they turned it a year sooner than the world dared hope.

MANY MEN OF NAVY

WILL BE DISCHARGED
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Reduction of the enlisted strength of the navy has commenced, Secretary Daniels said today, and applications for discharge by men both in the regular service and in the reserve divisions are being received. First consideration is being given, he added, to youths seeking to return to school or to positions in civil life which they gave up to join the naval forces. Mr. Daniels did not indicate the extent to which the reduction in strength was planned to go. It has been intimated previously, however, that the navy could spare 50,000 men during the next month.

HEALTH TALK

SPANISH INFLUENZA OR GRIP

By Dr. Lee H. Smith
An old enemy is with us again, and whether we fight a German or a germ we must put up a good fight, and not be afraid. The influenza runs a very brief course when the patient is careful, and if we keep the system in good condition and throw off the poisons which tend to accumulate within our bodies, we can escape the disease. Remember these three C's—a clean mouth, a clean skin, and clean bowels. To carry off poisons from the system and keep the bowels loose, daily doses of a pleasant laxative should be taken. Such a one is made of May-apple, leaves of aloes, root of jalap, and called Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Hot lemonade should be used freely if attacked by a cold, and the patient should be put to bed after a hot mustard foot-bath. To prevent the attack of bronchitis or pneumonia, and to control the plain, Anuric tablets should be obtained at the drug store, and one given every two hours, with lemonade. The Anuric tablets were first discovered by Dr. Pierce, and as they flush the bladder and cleanse the kidneys, they carry away much of the poisons and the uric acid.

It is important that broths, milk, buttermilk, ice-cream and simple diet be given regularly to strengthen the system and increase the vital resistance. The fever is diminished by the use of the Anuric tablets, but in addition, the forehead, arms and hands may be bathed with water (tepid) in which a tablespoonful of salaratus has been dissolved in a quart. After an attack of grip or pneumonia to build up and strengthen the system, obtain at the drug store a good iron tonic, called "Ironite" Tablets, or that well known herbal tonic, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

HIGHWAYS COUNCIL REMOVES RESTRICTIONS ON ROAD WORK

France to Have Boys' and Girls' Club
France is considering the adoption of Uncle Sam's methods of teaching better farming and home making to boys and girls. Representatives from the French High Commission, lately in this country, made a point of studying carefully the methods of the federal department of agriculture and the state agricultural colleges in conducting boys' and girls' clubs. Much of the information thus collected has been widely reprinted by the French press, accompanied by editorial comment expressing the view that, the man and woman power of France having been depleted or disorganized by war service, France for some time to come will be dependent in large part upon its younger population for its food supply and suggesting the formation in France of a nationwide system of boys' and girls' clubs patterned on those in America. It is expected that these clubs will grow staple products—grain, potatoes, wool, farm grain and forage crops, poultry and farm animals on farms not devastated, the very soil of which must first of all be put in condition. They will stimulate production by the young people of France through organized contests not only in farming but in home enterprises such as bread baking, garment making, cooking and home management. DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

OF MANY CHARMING FLOWERS

BUTTON BUSH.

"Little Button flowers," said the Button Bush, "there is going to be a great big banquet held here today."

"Where?" they all asked. "In this swamp!"

"Yes, in this swamp, but the banquet table is going to be this very bush."

"Oh, such an honor," breathed the Button Bush flowers.

The button bush flowers are very numerous. There are just hundreds of flowers on every button bush—but there is no special reason for the name of the button bush flowers unless it might be that they are like little buttons.

Still, if that were the case, what would one do about the big buttons? The button bush flowers aren't like the big buttons one often sees, and more often wears.

So, really, there is no special reason for such a name. But the name has little to do with the button bush. Very little indeed.

Each button bush plant has a great, great many flowers upon it and each one of these flowers is filled with the most delicious honey.

It Seemed as Though They Would Never Stop.

"When is the banquet to begin?" asked one little flower.

"In a very short time," said the Button Bush. "Patience, though, little flowers. The guests will come soon."

"Who are the guests to be?" asked the flowers.

"All the little insects of the swamp," said the Button Bush.

"Oh, goodie!" they said. "It will be a great and magnificent banquet, a great and gay banquet." And they all looked very happy.

At last the guests began to arrive, and once they had started to come it seemed as though they would never stop. Of course they held banquets every day in the swamp, and many times a day, but this was a very special banquet.

One little insect was seated upon the edge of a tiny button bush flower.

"Will you tell me a secret?" asked the insect.

"What is it?" asked the flower.

"Ah, it's a secret you all have; but if you will tell me I will promise only to tell my friends and companions, the insects. You don't mind if we know. We're all such friends."

"What secret have we that you want to know?" asked the little flower.

"Ah, shy one, shy one, you know," said the insect.

The flower moved a little in the breeze. "Have another good sip of honey and I will tell you," said the flower.

"That's an easy command to obey," said the insect.

"We are very, very shy," said the flower. "Yes, all the flowers on each button bush are so shy that they want to keep away from people."

"We have been told we would make lovely garden flowers and that people would admire us. They say we are so fragrant and sweet and that we are pretty to look at."

"All of that is true," said the insect, making a low bow, and taking another little sip of honey.

"But somehow, we love the swamps best. They are so quiet. People don't come to them and we are so shy. People are nice, we haven't a doubt, but we like to be off by ourselves and so we always grow in the swamps where there are no houses, but where there are lots of insects."

"For we like insects. They enjoy our delicious honey—for we can't help leaving a little of our honey, which every tiny flower has—and we like to give it to them."

"We help them and they help us. We all love each other. The insects come to us because they hear of our rare honey and because we are so fragrant that they are drawn to us."

"But, little insect, do not feel badly because the world doesn't see us, and because the world can't see us, with you our fragrance. We are shy, we have always been shy, and we will always be shy. But the people in the world outside the swamps have many beautiful things to look at and enjoy and we want to help along the swamps which aren't always so nice."

"And we love to give banquets. Yes, little insect, the button bush and the insect family are great friends when they meet in a good old out-of-the-way swamp!"

Obituary.

Lois Sturgeon Loman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Sturgeon, was born in Nodaway County, Mo., and departed this life at the Mater Hospital in St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 18, 1918, being 23 years, 11 months and 9 days old.

Lois grew to young womanhood on the farm in the home of her parents with all the advantages that could be thrown about a child. Nothing was spared by either of her parents that would help her to obtain the proper training to cope with the problems of this life and ultimately meet her God in Heaven. Their efforts were crowned with success in the fall of 1911 when Lois met Jesus in the pardon of her sins. This was the day of all days that counted in her life. Soon after conversion she joined the Baptist church of which she was a member at time of death.

She was graduated from the Hopkins High School under 1 years of age and from the Conservatory of Music at Maryville under 19 years. Later she attended the State Normal at Ada, Oklahoma, obtaining a State Certificate. She taught one and one-half years in Oklahoma, giving up her last term after marriage to move to the farm with her parents.

She was married to Lee Loman Nov. 9, 1917 and to this union, little Gladys was born, being now but six days of age.

Lois had been in the best of health up to her last sickness. Her death was a great shock because she was so strong. She made a hard fight for her life but God's will was otherwise. Everything that loving hands and medical attention could do was done. She leaves to mourn her loss a broken hearted husband, the baby girl, a father and mother, one brother and one sister, besides many friends.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. R. R. Watts, her pastor, at the home of her parents southeast of town Sunday at one o'clock. Many friends gathered in the yard in sympathy for her bereaved loved ones. Interment in the Hopkins cemetery.

As her pastor I wish to add the following words to the obituary which has already been written by one who knew her intimately.

In the passing of Sister Loman, earth has lost one of her fairest flowers. She was a devoted wife and loving companion, a beloved daughter and sister and her presence will be missed by many. She had served the church of which she was a member in the capacity of organist and in other ways of helpfulness. She shall be missed but we rejoice that she had the "hope of joy set before her."

We feel that all is gain for her which we deem a loss to us. Her parents, husband, baby and other relatives all have the heart felt sympathy of the church and of the entire community in this their bereavement. We can direct them only to God's word and His throne of grace for comfort and shelter in time of storm. Members of the church and the Sunday school class of which she was a member contributed floral wreaths as tokens of love. She yet lives and speaks. Her voice is silent; her life eternal.

"As I near that abode Brighter will be the road. For the glory around me will shine; From the Heavenly plains I shall catch the sweet strains And the joy of the ransomed be mine."

SIX DAY SCHEDULE FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

As a result of the influenza epidemic, the city schools were dismissed October 9th and did not resume work until November 18th. The interim represents the total of 28 school days or one-sixth of the entire school year. When the matter of paying the teachers for this lost time came up, the Board of Education questioned neither the justice nor the legality of such a procedure but promptly issued salary warrants to all teachers for full pay. The teachers without exception desire to show their appreciation of such consideration by teaching hour for hour for every day lost.

But how can we give back this time and how can we make this work up? Only two plans present themselves: Either continue the school six weeks after the regular term in May or increase the number of days in each school month by teaching on Saturdays. There is no question on the part of the Board of Education as to the first suggested being the better if it were feasible. It does not seem possible to follow this plan, however, for the simple reason that there are about twenty non-resident teachers in the city schools who could not be expected to pay living expenses for this six weeks of extra time and receive no remuneration from the Board. This item of expense would amount to $700 or $800 for which no provision has been made in our annual budget. There is this objection too: many of the teachers and high school pupils attend the summer session of the normal. If the public schools were continued six weeks there would be great inconvenience to both teachers and pupils to say the least of it. It seems, therefore, that there is only one way by which we can hope to make up this time and that is to use the Saturday of each week. This plan was adopted by the Board of Education in its meeting last night, not because it is considered the best plan but because it is considered the only plan. Our teachers as a body are ready to co-operate with the board and with the patrons of the school in this effort to give back as best they can the time and the work the pupils have lost. The success of the plan will depend entirely upon the patrons of the school. If the children are in school on Saturday, both the time and the work will be made up but if they are absent both will be lost. It is very doubtful if any child can lose six weeks of a school term and make his grades. Every Saturday therefore, will mean much in determining the pupils' promotion at the end of the year. I wish to urge the co-operation of all the patrons in this matter.

The New Engine

We have received our new Engine, ordered last January, and for several weeks will be tearing out the old and putting in the new. While doing this work we will have only one engine to depend on for service, so there will probably be some interruptions. We trust they will be few and of short duration and that our customers will bear with us patiently. For two or three Sundays, beginning with the 10th, the plant will be shut down from two to six hours while making changes in steam lines necessary to make connections for the new engine.

There's But One Safe Way to Buy

I keep in close touch with market conditions of food products. I am correctly informed as to the cash and food value of practically every article of table and baking use. My knowledge and close acquaintance with baking materials and their quality and money worth passed on to you in my articles, should aid in the selection of proper foods at proper prices.

You have often heard the expression that "water seeks its own level." This same thought might well be applied to merchandise.

Inferior merchandise may find a ready demand when first put on the market—but its inferiority is soon found out—and its sale usually takes a slump. Hence I have come to the conclusion that the biggest seller is the best buy.

When some certain brand is given a wide preference over all similar merchandise it means but one thing—merit has proved it best.

So it follows that if housewives would purchase only merchandise that meets the greatest demand their buying would be far more satisfactory.

I have noticed invariably that the demand for a product always verifies the value of a product determined by scientific tests—which proves my contention conclusively.

Take baking powder. The biggest selling brand on the market today proved to me by the most critical experiments that it is entitled to the preference it has gained.

There are more pounds of Calumet sold than any other brand of baking powder. Usage has proved its superiority—my tests pointed to the same fact. The woman who buys Calumet eliminates all possible waste. She profits by the experience of millions of women who after testing many different brands of baking powder find Calumet best. It is safe to buy because overwhelming choice shows the supreme satisfaction it renders the vast majority of housewives.

I have made investigations and trips through many plants that manufacture food articles, and I have yet to find a finer and better equipped, more up to date, sanitary plant than that of the Calumet Baking Powder Co. Anyone who will visit this plant will readily understand why they should and how they do manufacture baking powder that fills all the requirements.

RESTRICTIONS ON ROAD MATERIALS OFF

The United States Fuel Administration has cancelled its order of May 13, last, restricting the sale of road purposes of asphalt, road binders, road oil, tar binders and dressings, and announced that shipments of these materials can now be made without special permit and without filing application for road work through local state highway departments or through the United States Highway Council. This information was given out today from the office of State Fuel Administrator, P. A. Norris.

The administration also announced that disapprovals previously made were revoked, and that pending applications would require no further action.

Arrangements for delivery of road materials may now be made in the same manner as before the issuance of the restrictive order, which was the result of the war demands.

The revocation, addressed to oil refineries, state highway departments and highway contractors, follows:

"Due to war demands, on May 13, 1918, an order was issued by the United States Fuel Administration, restricting the sale for road purposes of asphalt, road binders, road oil, tar binders or dressings. This order is herewith cancelled and shipments of these materials can now be made without special permit or the necessity of filing application for road work through local state highway departments or the United States Highway Council. Arrangements for delivery of these materials should be made in the same manner as was the case before the restrictive orders were necessary.

"Announcement is made that disapprovals previously made are revoked, and pending applications will require no further action."

We have been asked to rush our order for the emergency pajamas to headquarters as quickly as possible.

It has been suggested that since there will be no more surgical dressings the workers can concentrate on sewing and knitting.

We will have some sewing, mostly refugee garments, for some time. We have been advised.

To those who are working on conservation, gathering pits, tin foil and platinum, you are advised that it will be no longer necessary. In closing this campaign Mr. Pettus, director of conservation at St. Louis, wishes to thank all who have worked so diligently in answering the government's call.

On the morning of Nov. 21, all persons who have received no Christmas parcel label from their relatives overseas, can get one by applying to Red Cross headquarters. You have to be the nearest living relative in order that you may receive the label.

This order will hold good till Nov. 30. It is the desire of the Red Cross that all men over seas get a Christmas box, and arrangements have been made for this plan to be carried out.

STEADIER HOG MARKETS PLANNED

Hog Producers and Packers Confer With Representatives of the Food Administration and Agricultural Department and Adopt New Plan of Regulation.

In accordance with the policy of the Food Administration since its foundation to consult representative men in the agricultural industry on occasions of importance to special branches of the industry, on October 24 there was convened in Washington a meeting of the Live Stock Subcommittee of the Agricultural Advisory Board and the special members representing the swine industry to consider the situation in the hog market.

The conference lasted for three days, and during this time met with the executive committee of the fifty packing firms participating in foreign orders for pork products and with the members of the Food Administration directing foreign pork purchases.

The conclusions of the conference were as follows:

The entire marketing situation has so changed since the September joint conference as to necessitate an entire alteration in the plan of price stabilization. The current peace talk has alarmed the holders of corn, and there has been a price decline of from 25 cents to 40 cents per bushel. The fact that the accumulations of low priced corn in the Argentine and South Africa would, upon the advent of peace and liberated shipping, become available to the European market has created a great deal of apprehension on the part of corn holders. This decline has spread fear among swine growers that a similar reduction in the prices of hogs would naturally follow. Moreover, the lower range of corn prices would, if incorporated in a 18-to-1 ratio, obviously result in a continuously falling price for live hogs. In view of these changed conditions many swine producers anticipated lower prices and as a result rushed their hogs to market in large numbers, and this overshipment has added to and aggravated the decline.

The information of the Department of Agriculture indicates that the supply of hogs has increased about 8 per cent, while the highest unofficial estimate does not exceed 15 per cent. Increased production over last year. On the other hand, the arrival of hogs during the last three weeks in the seven great markets has been 27 per cent. more than last year, during the corresponding period, demonstrating the unusually heavy marketing of the available supply. In the face of the excessive receipts some packers have not maintained the price agreed last month. On the other hand, many of the packers have paid over the price offered to them in an endeavor to maintain the agreed price. The result in any event has been a failure to maintain the October price basis determined upon at the September conference and undertaken by the packers. Another factor contributing to the break in prices during the month has been the influenza epidemic; it has sharply curtailed consumption of pork products and temporarily decreased the labor staff of the packers about 25 per cent.

The exports of 130,000,000 pounds of pork products for October compared with about 52,000,000 pounds in October a year ago, and the export orders placeable by the Food Administration for November, amount to 170,000,000 pounds as contrasted with the lesser exports of 98,000,000 for November, 1917. The increased demands of the allies are continuing, and are in themselves proof of the necessity for the large production for which the Food Administration asked. The increase in export demands appears to be amply sufficient to take up the increase in hog production, but unfavorable market conditions existing in October afford no fair index of the aggregate supply and demand.

It must be evident that the enormous shortage in food in the Central Empire and neutral countries would immediately upon peace result in additional demands for pork products which, on top of the heavy shipments to the Allies, would tend materially to increase the American exports, inasmuch as no considerable reservoir of supplies exists outside of the United States. It seems probable that the present prospective supplies would be inadequate to meet this world demand with the return to peace. So far as it is possible to interpret this fact, it appears that there should be even a stronger demand for pork products after the war, and therefore any alarm of hog producers as to the effect of peace is unwarranted by the outlook.

In the light of these circumstances it is the conclusion of the conference that attempts to hold the price of hogs to the price of corn may work out to the disadvantage of pork producers. It is the conclusion that any interpretation of the formula should be a broad gauged policy applied over a long period. It is the opinion of the conference that in substitution of the previous plans of stabilization the Live Stock Subcommittee of the Agricultural Advisory Board, together with the specially invited swine representatives, should accept the invitation of the Food Administration to join with the administration and the packers in determining the prices at which controlled export orders are to be placed. This will be regularly done. The influence of these orders will be directed to the maintenance of the common object—namely, the stabilization of the price of live hogs so as to secure as far as it is possible fair returns to the producer and the insurance of an adequate future supply.

These foreign orders are placed upon the basis of cost of hogs to the packers.

As the result of long negotiations between this body and the Packers Committee, representing the 45 to 54 packers participating in foreign orders, together with the Allied buyers, all under the Chairmanship of the Food Administration, the following undertaking has been given by the packers:

In view of the undertakings on the part of the Food Administration with regard to the co-ordinated purchases of pork products, covered in the attached, it is agreed that the packers participating in these orders will undertake not to purchase hogs for less than the following agreed minimums for the month of November, that is a daily minimum of $17.50 per hundred pounds on average of packers' droves, excluding throw-outs. "Throw-outs" to be defined as pigs under 130 pounds, stags, boars, thin sows and skips. Further that no hogs of any kind shall be bought, except throw-outs, at less than $16.50 per hundred pounds. The average of packers' droves to be construed as the average of the total sales in the market of all hogs for a given day. All the above to be based on Chicago.

We agree that a committee shall be appointed by the Food Administration to check the daily operations in the various markets with a view to supervision and demonstration of the carrying out of the above.

The ability of the packers to carry out this arrangement will depend on there being a normal marketing of hogs based upon the proportionate increase over the receipts of last year. The increase in production appears to be a maximum of about 15 per cent, and we can handle such an increase. If the producers of hogs should, as they have in the past few weeks, prematurely market hogs in such increasing numbers, over the above it is entirely beyond the ability of the packers to maintain these minimums, and therefore we must have the co-operation of the producer himself to maintain these results. It is a physical impossibility for the capacity of the packing houses to handle a similar over-doo of hogs and to find a market for the output. The packers are anxious to co-operate with the producers in maintaining a stabilization of price and to see that producers receive a fair price for their products.

(Signed) THOS. E. WILSON, Chairman Packers' Committee.

The plan embodied above was adopted by the conference. The Food Administrator has appointed a committee, comprising Mr. Thomas E. Wilson, chairman of the Packers' Committee; Mr. Everett Brown, president of the Chicago Livestock Exchange; Major Roy of the Food Administration, Mr. Louis D. Hall of the Bureau of Markets, to undertake the supervision of the execution of the plan in the various markets. Commission men are asked to co-operate in carrying out the plan embodied in the packers' agreement. It must be evident that offers by commission men to sell hogs below the minimum established above is not fair, either to the producer or the participating packers. Mr. Brown has undertaken on behalf of the commission men in the United States that they will loyally support the plan.

It is believed by the conference that this new plan, based as it is upon a positive minimum basis, will bring better results to the producer than average prices for the month. It does not limit top prices, and should narrow the margins necessary to country buyers in more variable markets. It is believed that the plan should work out close to $18 average.

Swine producers of the country will contribute to their own interest by not flooding the market, for it must be evident that if an excessive over percentage of hogs is marketed in any one month price stabilization and control cannot succeed, and it is certain that producers themselves can contribute materially to the efforts of the conference if they will do their marketing in an normal way as possible.

The whole situation as existing at present demands a frank and explicit assurance from the conference, represented—namely, that every possible effort will be made to maintain a live hog price commensurate with swine production costs and reasonable selling values in execution of the declared policy of the Food Administration to use every agency in its control to secure justice to the farmer.

The stabilization methods adopted for November represent the best efforts of the conference, concurred in by the Food Administration and the

WHEN STATUE FELL
(By the Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 19.—People of Albert, France, are convinced that their prophecy has been fulfilled that when the famous statue of the Madonna at Albert fell the war would end in a victory for France and her allies. This quaint conceit grew out of the fact that the statue was dislodged by German shell fire from its perch on the tower of the church at Albert during the first mad rush of the Huns through France in 1914. The base of the statue was so shattered that it hung over the road from Amiens to Bapaume which passed the walls of the church.

The statue remained in that strange pose after the Huns had been rolled back by the battle of the Marne. An effort was made to brace the statue in its resubment position so that it could not fall until the tower itself gave way.

When the British line was driven back in March last the Hun again entered Albert and when the Germans retired at the beginning of the allied offensive the tower with its statue had fallen. This, curiously marked the high tide of German invasion. From that day on the Hun hordes were pressed back. The people of Albert believe luck of the Germans deserted them when the Virgin of Albert was fell.

BOLSHEVIKI FORCES

IN SIBERIA SCATTERING. Vladivostok, Wednesday, Sept. 4.

The Siberian front has disappeared overnight. In the words of an American authority, it has "moved 4,000 miles to the westward." Communication has been completely established between Vladivostok and Irkutsk. Czech-Slovak forces have broken through Lake Baikal in the direction of Chita under Captain Galda, while General Semenov's Cossacks, supported by Czech-Slovaks, have approached the trans-Baikalian capital from the Onon river.

The bolshevik forces, seemingly overawed by the presence of the entente allied troops, have scattered. Some of them have gone in the direction of Khabarovsk and others are supposed to be fleeing northward by way of the Amur railway.

Military officials said it would not be surprising to find that the bolsheviks had dissolved into non-combatant groups, only seeking amnesty from the entente allies.

URGED TO SLAY AND SPARE NOT

German Soldiers Incited to Acts of Cruelty by General Von Bissing.

'EMANATION OF HIGH KULTUR'

Governor General of Belgium on Record as Declaring the Innocent Must Suffer With the Guilty—Irvine Cobb's Tale of Horror.

The horrors deliberately and systematically inflicted upon the people of Belgium by the German soldiers, under the orders of their commanding officers, are shown in all their hideousness by official documents and the testimony of eye-witnesses, as well as by letters written by German soldiers in the field. The brazen effort of Emperor William to cast the odium of the fearful deeds on the Belgians is also shown. Quotations given are from documents already made public or in the possession of the government at Washington.

This interview was reproduced in the Berliner Tageblatt of November 20, 1914.

Mr. F. C. Walcott of the Belgian relief commission tells in the Geographical Magazine for May, 1917, of meeting Gen. von Bissing:

"As I walked out, Gen. von Bissing came into the room, an expert artilleryman, a professor in one of their colleges. I met him the next morning, and he asked me if I had read his book, 'Germany in the Next War.'"

"I said I had. He said: 'Do you know, my friends nearly ran me out of the country for that?' They said, 'You have let the cat out of the bag.' I said, 'No, I have not, because nobody will believe it.' What did you think of it?"

"I said, 'General, I did not believe a word of it when I read it, but I now feel that you did not tell the whole truth,' and the old general looked actually pleased."

Speaking on August 29, 1914, at Munster, of the extreme measures which the Germans felt obliged to take against the civil population of Belgium, Gen. von Bissing said:

"The innocent must suffer with the guilty. In the repression of infancy, human lives cannot be spared, and if isolated houses, flourishing villages, and even entire towns are annihilated, that is assuredly regrettable, but it must not excite ill-timed sentimentality. All this must not in our eyes weigh as much as the life of a single one of our brave soldiers—the rigorous accomplishment of duty is the emanation of a high kultur, and in that, the population of the enemy countries can learn a lesson from our army."

Officers Encouraged Atrocities.

Gen. von Bissing, after his appointment as governor general of Belgium, repeated in substance the above opinion to a Dutch journalist. The interview is published in the Dusseldorfer Anzeiger of December 8, 1914.

Irvine Cobb states his conclusion on the responsibility of the higher German command for the atrocities:

"But I was an eyewitness to crimes which, measured by the standards of humanity and civilization, impressed me as worse than any individual excess, any individual outrage, could ever have been or can ever be; because these crimes indubitably were instigated on a wholesale basis by order of officers of rank, and must have been carried out under their personal supervision, direction, and approval."

"Taking the physical evidence offered before our own eyes, and brushing it with the statements made to us not only by natives, but German soldiers and German officers, we could reach but one conclusion, which was that here, in such and such a place, those in command had said to the troops: 'Spare this town and these people.' And there they had said: 'Waste this town and shoot these people.' And here the troops had discriminated, and there they had indiscriminately wasted, in exact accordance with the word of their superiors."

Irvine Cobb, Speaking of Prussians, New York, 1917, pp. 32-34.

Woodwinked German People. These ideas, then, were systematically impressed upon the military and official classes. It was necessary, however, to work upon the minds of the German people, so that they might lend themselves to the inhuman policies advocated by the military leaders. To do this was difficult, for, as has been shown often, many of the civilian leaders of public opinion, time and again, expressed their horror of the new spirit which was animating the military authorities. The reichstag debates give ample evidence of this, and the task of the military leaders would have been still more difficult if the reichstag had any real power. (See War Information Series No. 3, "The Government of Germany," set also Gerard's "My Four Years in Germany," chapter 2.)

The military authorities and those in sympathy with them have done all in their power to stimulate a hatred of other peoples in the minds of the Germans. A campaign of education before the war was carried on with the object of impressing upon the minds of the Germans the treacherous nature of the peoples against whom the military leaders were anxious to wage war. Not only were the Germans gradually led to believe that it was necessary to fight a defensive war against unscrupulous foes, but also that these foes would violate every precept of humanity, and consequently must be crushed without mercy as a measure of self-defense. The fruits of this campaign of suspicion and hatred became evident when almost at the outbreak of the war many Germans became possessed with the belief that the whole population of Belgium, the first country to be invaded, had violated every rule of honorable warfare, that the francs-tireurs (guerrillas) were everywhere present doing their deadly work in secrecy or under the cover of darkness; that women and even children were mutilating and killing the wounded or helpless prisoners.

Extract from a letter written by a German soldier to his brother. (This letter, now in the possession of the United States government, was obtained for this pamphlet from Mr. J. C. Grew, formerly secretary to the United States embassy at Berlin.)

"November 4, 1914.

"The battles are everywhere extremely tenacious and bloody. The Englishmen we hate most and we want to get even with them for once. While one now and then sees French prisoners, one hardly ever beholds French black troops or Englishmen. These good people are not overlooked by our infantrymen; that sort of people is moved down without mercy. The losses of the Englishmen must be enormous. There is a desire to wipe them out, root and all."

Urged to Kill Without Pity.

Extract from another letter to a brother:

Schleswig, 25, 8 14 (Aug. 25, 1914).

"Dear Brother, . . . You will shortly go to Brussels with your regiment, as you know. Take care to protect yourself against these civilians, especially in the villages. Do not let anyone come too near. They are very clever, cunning, fellows, these Belgians; even the women and children are armed and fire their guns. Never go inside a house, especially alone. If you take anything to drink make the inhabitants drink first and keep at a distance from them. The newspapers relate numerous cases in which they have fired on our soldiers whilst they were drinking. Our soldiers must spread around so much fear of yourselves that no civilian will venture to come near you. Remain always in the company of others. I hope that you have read the newspapers and that you know how to behave. Above all have no compassion for these cutthroats. Make for them without pity with the butt-end of your rifle and the bayonet."

"Your brother, WILLI."

The emperor gave his sanction to the reports of the brutal acts of the Belgians in a telegram to President Wilson.

"Berlin, via Copenhagen, Sept. 7, 1914.

"I feel it my duty, Mr. President, to inform you as the most prominent representative of principles of humanity, that after taking the French fortress of Longwy, my troops discovered there thousands of dudman cartridges made by special government machinery. The same kind of ammunition was found on killed and wounded troops and prisoners, also on the British troops. You know what terrible wounds and suffering these bullets inflict and that their use is strictly forbidden by the established rules of international law. I therefore address a solemn protest to you against this kind of warfare, which, owing to the methods of our adversaries, has become one of the most barbarous known in history. Not only have they employed these atrocious weapons, but the Belgian government has openly encouraged and long since carefully prepared the participation of the Belgian civil population in the fighting. The atrocities committed even by women and priests in this guerrilla warfare, also on wounded soldiers, medical staff and nurses, doctors killed, hospitals attacked by rifle fire, were such that my generals finally were compelled to take the most drastic measures in order to punish the guilty and to frighten the bloodthirsty population from continuing their work of vile murder and horror. Some villages and even the old town of Louvain (Louvain), excepting the fine hotel de ville, had to be destroyed in self-defense, and for the protection of my troops. My heart bleeds when I see that such measures have become unavoidable and when I think of the numerous innocent people who lose their home and property as a consequence of the barbarous behavior of these criminals. Signed, William, Emperor and King. "GERARD, Berlin."

Lorenz Muller in the German Catholic Review, Der Feis, February, 1915, made the following statement in regard to the emperor's telegram:

"Officially no instance has been proven of persons having fired with the help of priests from the towers of churches. All that has been made known up to the present, and that has been made the object of inquiry concerning alleged atrocities attributed to Catholic priests during this war, has been shown to be false and altogether imaginary, without any exception. Our emperor telegraphed to the president of the United States of America that even women and priests had committed atrocities during this guerrilla warfare on wounded soldiers, doctors and nurses attached to the field ambulances. How this telegram can be reconciled with the fact stated above, we shall not be able to learn until after the war."

JOS. F. SMITH, HEAD OF MORMON CHURCH, DEAD

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 19.—Jos. F. Smith, president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, (Mormon) died at his home here early today, after a long illness.

Joseph Fielding Smith was president of the Mormon Church, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, the seat of which cult is in Utah, though its members are scattered in colonies through the world to the number of some 400,000. The Church is ruled by a council, but Smith is nominal head, laid claim to the authority of the original Mormon Prophet, Joseph Smith, his uncle. This claim was disputed by several apostate organizations, including the Missouri branch, at the head of which was Joseph Smith, son of the prophet, who died in 1914.

With the death of both Smiths, has passed probably the last of the Mormon leaders whose birth occurred prior to the settlement of the cult in Utah. Joseph Fielding Smith was ninety years old. His father, Hyrum Smith, and his uncle, the original Prophet Smith, were shot to death by a mob which stormed the jail in Carthage, Mo., where the two were confined shortly after they began to preach plurality of wives. When his mother, with the rest of the Mormons, was driven from Nauvoo, Ill., the eight-year-old Joseph Fielding Smith drove an ox-team across the plains into Utah and became a herding boy, and then a missionary, when, in 1852, Brigham Young established the headquarters of the Mormon sect at Salt Lake City, Utah. He was sent on a mission to Hawaii when only fifteen years old.

He entered the army which Young dispatched to intercept the United States troops which were about to invade Utah, and performed active service as a scout, harrassing the Federal expedition until the President's proclamation ended the "Mormon War."

Joseph Fielding Smith was an avowed polygamist. According to his own testimony in the United States Senate inquiry into the case of Reed Smoot, United States Senator from Utah, Smith had five wives. It is said his children numbered forty-three.

In 1890, after the Supreme Court had upheld the Edmunds-Tucker Act, making polygamy unlawful in the territories, which had more than 1,000 Mormons—President Woodruff of the church issued a manifesto declaring that polygamy was no longer practiced by the Mormons. In public admissions, President Smith upheld this manifesto, but as to his own case, he said, before the Smoot inquiry, that although it was contrary to the law of the land, he had had a plural family for many years and he preferred to meet the consequences of the law rather than to abandon his children and their mothers. He testified he had eleven children born since 1890, and that all of his wives, but he reiterated that no plural marriages had been performed by officers of the Mormon church, or sanctioned to be performed by the church since 1890.

President Smith, like a number of his associates, was at various times subjected to prosecution and on one occasion paid a fine of $300.

He directed vast business enterprises in connection with his administration of church affairs. In the inquiry into the "Sugar Trust" he told how the church had half a million dollars invested in sugar.

Smith's private fortune was also reputed to be large. Aside from his religious activities, Smith was several times a member of the Utah State Legislature, and of the City Council of Salt Lake City. He was a widely traveled man, having made many trips to Europe. In 1874 he was sent to England as a missionary and was so active with the Mormon propaganda that his work attracted wide attention.

Sneezing Superstitions.
In Scotland it has been maintained that idiots are incapable of sneezing, and the power to do so has been deemed evidence of the possession of a certain degree of intelligence. It was a Flemish belief that a sneeze during a conversation for a bargain proved that what you said was the truth. The Chinese believe that a sneeze on New Year's eve means bad luck through the coming year. The Japanese hold that one sneeze means that some one is praising you, two show blame, whereas, if you sneeze three times, you are merely ill.

Earthquakes in Italy.
Statistics gathered in Italy throw some light on the question of the relative frequency of earthquakes by day and by night. It has been alleged that the supposed greater frequency of nocturnal quakes is only apparent, being due to the fact that quiet conditions at night make the shocks more readily perceptible. It appears, however, that considering only those shocks which were so intense that they could not have escaped notice at any hour, 865 occurred during the 12 night hours.

Nurnberg Birthplace of Thimble.
As far as we can be certain of anything, the thimble is to be traced to the inventive and ingenious artisans of Nurnberg, who were the acknowledged manufacturers of it in the fourteenth century. It was not, however, until 1534, that the thimblemakers became what is called a corporate body, although for a whole century previously the Nurnberg merchants had carried thimbles with them for sale on their yearly expeditions to the great fairs of Leipzig, Hamburg and Lubek.

Many Uses for Kapok.
Kapok is the name applied to the silky fiber found around the seed of the silk-cotton tree (Eriodendron anfractuansum). This tree is found in all tropical countries and is very abundant in Java, which furnishes a large part of the commercial supply. Kapok is imported into the United States in large quantities, principally from Java, and is used as filling for mattresses, pillows, cushions and life preservers of various kinds, and as an upholstery material.

Husband Alleges Deception.
A California man testifies in the divorce suit that when he was courting his wife she always met him at the front door with a kitchen apron on, leading him to believe she was domestic in her taste, and after he married he learned to his dismay that she had never even learned how to boil an egg, and that she gave him the alternative of boarding or clearing out.—Houston Post.

Charles Sherwood Stratton (Tom Thumb) was born at Bridgeport, Conn., in 1838. He was exhibited by P. T. Barnum in various parts of the world. He married in 1863 Mercy Lavinia Bump (Lavinia Warren) also a dwarf. When first exhibited Tom Thumb was only about two feet high, but he grew to a height of 40 inches. He died at Middleborough, Mass., in 1883.

Alaskan Coast Forests.
The coast forests of southern and southeastern Alaska are included in the national forests of Tongass and Chugach, which comprise over 96,000,000 acres, a large proportion of which is covered with trees. Of these Sitka spruce averages about 20 per cent and western hemlock about 75 per cent.

A Paradox.
"Strange as it may seem," launched out the man of observations, "when the young lady of the house declares that a certain young man is after her own heart, and father says he is after his, too, there is no chance whatever for an argument."

Ancient Paraphraser.
Doctor Johnson, in writing a poem, from time to time would run his finger down the page, counting the verses to see how many more he had to write. The doctor had his resemblances to a paraphraser.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Few Really Sincere.
Sincerity is an openness of heart; we find it in very few people; what we usually see is only an artful dissimulation to win the confidence of others.

First Electric Lighted City.
Aurora, Ill., was the first city in the world to have its streets lighted by electricity, that method of illumination having been installed there in 1881.

Uncle Eben.
"De man dat makes money too easy," said Uncle Eben, "takes his turn at de hard work when it comes to explainin' how he got it."

Machine Works With Peat Gas.
Danish investors have perfected motors that are claimed to work well with peat gas as fuel instead of benzine or gasoline.

Daily Thought.
No really great man ever thought himself so.—Hazlitt.

WILSON WILL ATTEND PEACE CONFERENCE
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—President Wilson will attend the opening sessions of the peace conference, but his presence at the outset is necessary, in order to obviate the manifest disadvantages of discussion by cable in determining the greater outlines of the final treaty about which he must necessarily be consulted. He will of course, be accompanied by delegates who will sit as the representatives of the United States throughout the conference.
